Project Title funded by the Tuscany Region:

“Machiavelli from Tuscany to Europe”

Scientist in charge of the Research Project funded by the Tuscany Region:

Prof.ssa Simonetta Bassi

Title of Research activity:

“Study and enhancement of the Machiavelli-Serristori collection (Istituto Nazionale di Studi sul Rinascimento, Florence)”

Project summary:

The Machiavelli-Serristori collection is held by Istituto Nazionale di Studi sul Rinascimento (INSR) and consists of 367 books (among these are 26 rare sixteenth-century exemplars, polemical texts and critical studies). This collection represents therefore a relevant and unique heritage of the centuries-long influence of Machiavelli’s thought upon European culture.

The research project is aimed at analysing and enhancing the materials of this important collection, in order to make them available not only to the scholars, but also to a larger audience interested in the Renaissance, the culture of Tuscany and its role in modern era.

The fellowship is 2-years long, during which the fellow is required to (a) realise a systematic study of the Machiavelli-Serristori collection (b) digitalise the collection materials (c) organise the digital materials and make them available in an online database.

The project will be carried on in collaboration with the INSR, especially as far as the synergy between the research activity and the usage of digital technologies is concerned.

Scientific discipline sector:

M-FIL/06 - History of philosophy

Number of fellowships:

1

Summary of the background and skills of the fellow:

A strong background in history of philosophy and a master’s degree in Philosophy (class LM 78) are necessary. An excellent knowledge of the Italian Renaissance philosophy and its European reception is required. Also recommended are specific competencies in historical and lexical analysis of philosophical texts, with special reference to the reconstruction of their genesis, circulation and aftermath. Finally, the candidate must have proven a strong attitude for research, possibly witnessed by a significant scientific production (monographs, scientific articles) and study experiences (e.g. conference presentations).
